

Early Recreation

From 1952 through 1970, Harry Neverett operated a campsite and a swimming area on land west of Fantasy Kingdom Amusement Park. This recreation site was a very popular destination for North Country residents. Following abandonment, the National Commercial Bank of Plattsburgh took over the property, known as St. Armand's Beach, and removed the buildings.

Swimming area looking from overlook. (Courtesy of Jeff MacHamer.)

Looking toward Fantasy Kingdom

(Courtesy of Jeff MacHamer.)

Swimming Area/Picnic Area

(Courtesy of Jeff MacHamer.)

Swimming Area/Picnic Area

(Courtesy of Jeff MacHamer.)